System Replication

SAP HANA system replication provides the possibility to copy and continuously synchronize a SAP HANA database to a secondary location in the same or another data center. Usually system replication is used to support high availability and disaster recovery.

1. System replication overview
   • Replication modes
   • Operation modes
2. Replication Settings
   • How to enable system replication
   • How to perform takeover
   • How to disable system replication
3. Trace Analysis
4. How to check replication status
5. Famous Issues
6. References
   • 1999880 - FAQ: SAP HANA System Replication
   • 2057595 - FAQ: SAP HANA High Availability
   • System replication guide
   • Troubleshoot System Replication
   • How To Perform System Replication for SAP HANA